

In re RONALD LEE FRAZIER, Debtor.
No. 01-35128-BKC-SHF

The Court dismissed Debtor's Chapter 7 case with prejudice to the Debtor filing another bankruptcy petition for 180 days. Debtor moved for the Court to reconsider and shorten prejudice time. Over the course of three years the Debtor filed four Chapter 13 petitions and one Chapter 7 petition. The effect of serial filings was a continued imposition of the automatic stay despite findings by the Court that several creditors were entitled to stay relief. The Court found that these serial filings frustrated the legitimate collection efforts of creditors and evidenced bad faith. The motion was denied with prejudice to the Debtor and his wife filing another bankruptcy petition for one year.
